Martinstag Dinner

Martinstag, the Mittel European feast day in honour of St. Martin – is celebrated across Germany, Austria and Switzerland on 11th November.

Reluctant to become a bishop in honour of his good deeds, legend has it that St. Martin hid in a stable full of geese from religious authorities… but their loud noises gave him away, and he was ordained anyway.

And so, roast goose is consumed as a nod to his fateful story – and light-filled lantern parades bring communities together.

To celebrate the festival, Head Chef Maciej Banas has created two special dishes, only available this evening, and we invite you to take home your very own lantern.
